SALEM LUTHERAN CHURCH, ELIZABETHVILLE, PA
717-362-9222 | WWW.SALEMLUTHERANELIZABETHVILLE.ORG

From the desk of: The Rev. Dr. Nathan C. Minnich, STS

Peace be with you!

Here we are at the beginning of a new season of fall activities, school for the children, Sunday School after church, and the slow signs of color overtaking the green growth of summer. This is the 11th year we have been together in this ministry and although there are certainly similarities year after year; the differences abound.

As I think back over this past decade there are faces missing, new ones around, and ministries that we could not have even imagined. Change forces us to adapt and grow, as long as we are focused on what lies ahead. Rather than always looking back, wondering why things are not the way they were we must look forward and wonder what things can become.

As I'm sure many of you have noticed lately, we've been working on solidifying the staff procedures here at Salem. With the addition of a Deacon, the support of a Parish Nurse, and the countless others who are involved daily in the ministry here we are beginning to define Salem's ministry in such a way that needs are met, and ministry roles become well-defined and productive. So, you may be asking "what does this actually mean?" Well, it is quite simple. We are seeking to use the ministry of each branch of our staff to its best possible outcome. This means the encouragement of the council for each of these branches to develop their ministry according to the needs of the congregation, the community, and the wider church all while maintaining a manageable use of time, space, and energy. For example, if you've been in the Ed. Building you might have noticed we're making the Pastor's study into a meeting room! This will allow the council, small committees, classes, and planning all to happen in a convenient space.

We are also building a lending library in that room so that among our members we can share the wealth of literary knowledge we have all collected but would rather share than let sit silent on our own shelves.

The Deacon is already working on several community outreach projects. The Parish Nurse is preparing for more health information programs. The music staff is gearing up to coordinate our music ministry. The Education Committee is planning Sunday School for three separate classes. The list goes on, and on. We need the support and commitment of our members to keep these ministries vibrant and growing to meet the needs around us.

Finally, you will notice in this newsletter and in weekly bulletins a clearer policy of visitation. With our highly educated, and well-trained staff, a few eager lay people, and a proper plan to communicate among us we seek to respond to the needs of visitation both inside and outside the membership of the church. Knowing that we've continually constrained the budget, squeezed what we can from our available time and energy, we know this is much needed. This means that we will seek to accomplish the appropriate visitation of those in need according to their requests. The needs of those around us are multifaceted and so our response must be as well. Take this opportunity to read what the staff has put together on visitation and make sure that you, and your family, are familiar with these details. In consultation the staff will ensure that each visitation request is met with the appropriate response according to need.

The visitation response will be based on a multi-tiered approach to provide each other with mutual consolation and visitation as needed, by a fellow congregation member for comfort and conversation, by the Parish Nurse for health-related encouragement and prayer, by the Deacon for prayer and distribution of communion, and by the Pastor for emergencies, death, and spiritual distress.

We will continue to refine these definitions and better develop our visitation response with your help! So please, respond to us with your thoughts and ideas. And, most especially, make sure that you request visitation by the office phone, email, or directly with the Pastor, Deacon, or Parish Nurse. It is difficult to respond to social media and other word-of-mouth requests.

As this new season begins, begin again your commitment to the Lord, and to your presence with His people, gathered around His table, the place where He promises to meet you with His real presence!

and risk taking. It is our nature to seek comfort for our future. But as I frequently remind them, it is often in comfort that we quickly become complacent, uncaring, disconnected and uncompassionate. When we embrace the unknown and take a risk, moving past what we know...we allow ourselves to experience growth! Isn't that what life is all about? To grow in our faith, our knowledge, and our compassion for one another. They all originate yet also point to one thing. That thing, my brothers and sisters, is love. The love of the Father as shown to us by the Son.

Over the past year, our congregation has faced and embraced multiple challenges as a community of believers, not just in regard to the direction and stability of our church, but many have felt individual challenges which have changed the faces of our family, our traditions, and have caused us to recreate ourselves. It has caused us, just when it seemed we could get comfortable, to take a risk and change our routine. And I submit...change is not such a bad thing! We have grown. Perhaps not in number, but in proving to ourselves that we can do what we must to survive and serve our congregation and community. But we must continually ask ourselves...have we done enough? I think the answer is that we have much more to do!

This September 9th marks the one-year anniversary of my ordination as your deacon. Many of you remember that celebration we enjoyed. Once the euphoria of that day settled and the work to be done became clear to me, the challenges that would come, as Pastor Rooney indicated in his sermon, indeed did so. With them came doubts, and even a few moments of feeling utterly defeated. But, with it also came new joy, growth, and a zeal for the work to be done in our community by the people of our congregation.

Your encouragement and strength continue to bolster my belief that we have much work to do despite inevitable changes, both past and future. I encourage you, as our children embark a new year of risk-taking and growth, to find a way to build that mindset into your life and see where it leads you. Let that opportunity for growth seep into your faith and service.

I continue to appreciate your prayers. Serving as your deacon and continues to be a true blessing in my life. Peace be with you. +

Deacon Ken

Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. And so, it begins again! Those associated with school age children know all too well the anxious nervousness yet bristling excitement this time of year brings with the return to school. As the glow of the stadium lights, and the sounds of cheering fill the air of our community each Friday night, we know that our summer days are quickly waning. With it, arrives a new year of learning for our children and the much-needed return to routine. And it effects almost every aspect of life, our community events, athletic clubs, concert series, and the activities of our church.

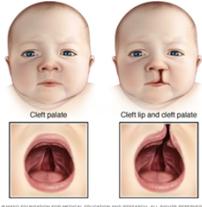

One of the highlights of my twenty-plus year career as a band director is assisting students in taking their next step after high school. Students routinely seek my guidance and we often discuss the themes of comfort

HEALTH MINISTRY

Cleft Lip/Cleft Palate

Cleft lip and cleft palate are openings or splits in the upper lip, the roof of the mouth (palate) or both. Cleft lip and cleft palate result when facial structures that are developing in an unborn baby don't close completely.

© MAYO FOUNDATION FOR MEDICAL EDUCATION AND RESEARCH. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.

Cleft lip may be detected with ultrasound beginning around the 13th week of pregnancy. As the fetus continues developing, it may be easier to accurately diagnose a cleft lip. Cleft palate that occurs alone is more difficult to see using ultrasound.

Cleft lip and cleft palate can be corrected surgically to restore normal function and appearance with minimal scarring. Cleft lip and cleft palate may appear as a split in the lip and roof of the mouth (palate) that affects one or both sides of the face. A child can be born with just a cleft palate which is the split in the roof of the mouth that doesn't affect the appearance of the face.

Less common is a cleft only in the muscles of the soft palate located at the back of the mouth and covered by the mouth's lining. This type of cleft often goes unnoticed at birth and not discovered until the child has difficulty with feedings, swallowing and possibly liquids or food coming out the nose, nasal speaking voice and chronic ear infections.

Causes and risks associated with cleft lip and cleft palate occur when tissues in the baby's face and mouth don't fuse properly during the second and third month of pregnancy. Researchers believe that most causes of cleft lip and cleft palate are caused by an interaction of genetic and environmental factors.

Meeting Dates

Tuesday, Sept. 10 & Oct. 8 @ 7 pm

Several factors may increase the likelihood of a baby developing a cleft lip and cleft palate, including a family history of cleft lip or cleft palate. Exposure to certain substances during pregnancy with women who smoke cigarettes, drink alcohol or take certain medications.

Children with cleft lip with or without cleft palate face a variety of challenges, depending on the type and severity of the cleft. Babies with cleft palate are especially at risk of developing middle ear fluid, hearing loss and dental problems. If the cleft extends through the upper gum, tooth development may be affected. Because the palate is used in forming sounds, speech may sound nasal leading to speech difficulties.

The goals of treatment for cleft lip and cleft palate are to improve the child's ability to eat, speak and hear normally and to achieve a normal facial appearance. Care for children with cleft lip and cleft palate involves a team of specialized physicians. Surgery to correct cleft lip and palate is based on your child's situation. Following the initial cleft repair, your doctor may recommend follow-up surgeries to improve speech or improve the appearance of the lip and nose. Surgery can significantly improve your child's quality of life, and ability to eat, breathe and talk.

Medication Education

In each newsletter, your Health Ministry Team will feature a medication along with its information. If there is a specific medication you would like more information on, please let a Health Ministry Team Member know. In this newsletter, we will look at the medication:

Prednisone

Prednisone is used to treat many conditions. Prednisone may be prescribed by your physician to treat one of these conditions: arthritis, blood disorders, breathing problems, severe allergies, skin diseases, cancer, eye problems, and immune system disorders. Prednisone belongs to a class of drugs known as corticosteroids. Prednisone decreases your immune system's response to various diseases to reduce symptoms such as swelling and allergic-type reactions.

When taking this medication by mouth ALWAYS take with food to prevent an upset stomach and with a full glass of milk or water. If you are using the liquid form of this medication, carefully measure the dose using a special measuring device/spoon. Do not use a household spoon. If you are prescribed only one dose per day, take it in the morning and never stop taking this medication suddenly without consulting your physician. Your physician may prescribe a titrating dosage of prednisone gradually stopping the medication to prevent side effects. Report any new or worsening symptoms right away. continued on next page.

Common side effects in taking oral prednisone include nausea, loss of appetite, heartburn, trouble sleeping, increased sweating (complaint of hot flashes), mood swings such as crying, whining with children, short tempered. Serious side effects for which your physician needs to be notified: muscle pain/cramps, irregular heartbeat, weakness, swelling hands/ankles/feet, unusual weight gain, signs of infection (such as fever, persistent sore throat), vision problems (such as blurred vision), vomit that looks like coffee grounds, black/bloody stools, severe stomach/abdominal pain, puffy face, seizures, changes in appearance of skin with bruising/bleeding/bluish purple markings.

This medication can make you more likely to get infections. Wash your hands well to prevent the spread of infection. If taking this medication daily and you miss a dose, take it as soon as you remember. If it is near the time of the next dose, skip the missed dose. Take your next dose at the regular time. Do not double the dose to catch up. If you are taking this medication on a different schedule than a daily one (such as every other day), ask your doctor ahead of time about what you should do if you miss a dose.

Always store this medicine away from light and moisture.

PARISH HIGHLIGHTS

Peace be with you! For the past few months, we have been pleased to bring to our community online access to the Mass each Sunday morning.

We invite and encourage you to be in the very presence of the Lord, and among His people. The primary reason for our weekly gathering is the reception of the Holy Eucharist, which cannot be administered by online streaming.

However, for those members who are traveling, and those unable to physically join us due to illness, or being homebound, you are welcome to view the Eucharist online at 9 a.m.

MUSIC MINISTRY

The Adult Choir will begin rehearsals again on Wednesday, September 18 at 7 p.m. in the music room of the education building.

The Adult Choir will return to Sunday service on Sunday, September 22.

We are seeking to add voices to our group. If you enjoy singing, please consider joining us. We rehearse for an hour each week on Wednesday evenings, and perform 3 Sundays a month from September through Pentecost. Please consider joining us in leading liturgical worship. Speak with Deacon Ken or a choir member today!

St. Francis Day Celebration Sunday, Oct. 6th at 1:00 pm “Blessing of the Animals”

Join us as we gather again for a service of blessing. But this year we have a special treat...

The owners of A+ Answers Pet Food will join us and present their products, bring samples, and join the fun.

Bring your pet, LARGE or small!

VISITATION MINISTRY OF SALEM LUTHERAN ELIZABETHVILLE

From St. Matthew, Chapter 25: Then the King will say to those on his right, ‘Come, you who are blessed by my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. For I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me drink, I was a stranger and you welcomed me, I was naked and you clothed me, I was sick and you visited me, I was in prison and you came to me.’

Over this past summer, the staff gathered to discuss the ministry of visitation here at Salem. Under the direction of the Deacon, whose ministry is firmly rooted in visitation, the pastor and staff have decided to be intentional in the visitation of our members, visitors, and those around us in the community. In this first phase of visitation ministry we will work to improve the visitation of the sick, homebound, and those in need. The following brief statement will serve as our guiding document, so that we can be uniform in our attempt and responsive to the needs of those among us.

VISITATION POLICY

We seek to provide the best level of visitation available, based on need and available time. Please keep in mind that our congregation recently voted to make changes in our pastoral ministry, limiting the pastor's time and availability. Because of this reality, and the addition of a Deacon to the staff, our goal is to best align visitors with requests depending on their situation. We seek to ensure every visitation request will be met by at least one lay-person visit, one parish nurse visit, and one ordained clergy visit with the distribution of Holy Communion in a calendar month.

What to expect from each visit:

Lay person: conversation, communication to the church staff on behalf of those being visited, and prayer. These visits may include a meal, prayer shawl, or other form of physical comfort as available.

Parish Nurse: conversation, communication to the rest of the church staff on behalf of those being visited, assessment of medical situation and advice as requested, a spiritual needs assessment to better advise the clergy, and prayer.

Deacon: prayer and conversation, communication to the rest of the staff on behalf of those being visited, a spiritual needs assessment to better advise the Pastor, and the distribution of Holy Communion.

Pastor: prayer and the Celebration of Holy Communion in special circumstances, communication to the rest of the staff on behalf of those being visited, the anointing of the sick, and commendation of the dying.

Situations in which to request a visit:

Request by means of communication that can be checked regularly and responded to appropriately.

- Non-emergency requests should be made with the office by phone or email. 717-362-9222 or email salemelizabethville@gmail.com
- Sickness and hospitalization requests can be made with the office or by directly contacting the Parish Nurse, Deacon, or Pastor by phone, text, or email.
- Death and serious situations arising in the moment of crises requests should be made to the Deacon or Pastor by phone call only.

Please DO NOT use social media, such as Facebook Messenger.

The pastor and the staff do not use this method of communication, and such requests are lost and go unanswered.

We can only respond to requests that are received first-hand.

Do not rely on others to pass only this vital information. Speak to your church staff directly!
